

INSPIRING ACTION. POWERING IMPACT.

The Do Good Institute equips and empowers a Do Good generation to apply their passions and ideas to make a positive impact in the world today.

THE 2017-2018 ACADEMIC YEAR AT A GLANCE

AMERICA'S FIRST DO GOOD CAMPUS

Students from all 14 UMD Colleges and Schools actively engaged in the Do Good Challenge, the Do Good Accelerator, and other programs.

250 teams made up of thousands of student leaders and social innovators accessed coaching, funding, and networks to make an impact on the issues they are passionate about.

32 exemplary students recognized at graduation with a Do Good medal for their commitment to social impact and innovation during their time at UMD.

OUR IMPACT

Fundación Microjusticia resolved 3,500 legal cases for vulnerable Argentines.

Terps Against Hunger has packaged more than 2 million meals for nearly 50,000 people in the DC area.

Imperfect Produce has recovered over 15 million pounds of produce in their first 2.5 years and now serves five major cities.

The James Hollister Wellness Foundation has recovered and provided medications for over 17,000 people.

Students Helping Honduras built 4 schools and raised over $100,000 for communities in Honduras.

Food Recovery Network is on 230 U.S. campuses and has recovered more than 2.5 million pounds of food.

TerpThon has raised over $4.2 million for Children's Miracle Network.

Ben Simon and Evan Lutz named to Forbes List of Top 30 Entrepreneurs Under 30.

IN THE CLASSROOM

468

students enrolled in multi-semester academic programs focused on leadership, social innovation, and public good.

965

students took a Do Good course focused on nonprofit leadership or social innovation.

AWARDS

2017 Voinovich Public Innovation Prize

Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs, and Administration

2017 Place Award

The Association of Public and Land Grant Universities

2017 Innovation Award

Maryland College Personnel Association

The Princeton Review ranks UMD #8

For undergraduate innovation and entrepreneurship education

AS SEEN IN: FASTCOMPANY

HUFFPOST

npr